Data Centre Management

There are interesting challenges facing the data centre community. Space issues allied to increasing power consumption and data centre efficiency. Potential governmental legislation focused on carbon emissions and environmental concerns. Regulations such as Sarbannes-Oxley and the Markets in Financial Instruments Directive (MiFID) which require businesses to store ever more data. Internal pressures stemming from consolidation projects, IP convergence, security issues and the need to attract and retain skilled workers. Taken as a whole, Data Centre Managers have many critical decisions to make in this fast moving field. ARi specialises in assisting customers in a number of these key areas.

ARi delivers cost effective, quality led data centre management and staffing services. From a single contractor to a fully managed outsourced team, ARi will provide the solution that suits the data centre environment and business need. Championing best practice, ARi has integrated the ITIL standards and philosophy into its service management structure. Services offered include:
